Making AI accessible to All

AI Communication Skills: 3 Specialized Webinars

For Adults   For Students   For Coders

2-Hour Online Webinar

Learn a simple way to talk to AI (Prompt Engineering), in everyday, non-technical language.

Why Most People Struggle With AI

- You don't know how to frame your questions clearly

- AI gives generic answers that don't fit your situation

- You spend time rephrasing and still don't get what you need

These webinars teach you to solve these problems

AI can help with real decisions and problem-solving only when you provide clear background and boundaries.

You'll learn a clear, repeatable method to communicate with any AI system, so you get practical, usable answers in one or two attempts instead of generic responses. This helps build the confidence everyone needs to use AI in everyday life.

This is not a tool or automation webinar. The focus is on communication skills that work across all AI systems.

{ What you'll learn }

- How to ask questions that give you exactly what you need

- Techniques to give AI the right background so it understands your situation

- Reduce time spent rephrasing, second-guessing, and correcting AI outputs

- How to use AI effectively for work, home, studying, planning, and everyday decision-making

- Works with ChatGPT, Meta AI, Gemini, and other AI tools, present and future.

{ What you take home }

- 75+ practical prompt examples for everyday situations

- 7-day practice plan (15-20 minutes a day)

- AI tools comparison guide (ChatGPT, Meta AI, Gemini), when to use which tool.

- Technical reference guide

{ Who is it for }

These webinars are designed to make AI communication skills accessible to first-time and non-technical users, supporting inclusive AI adoption across age, gender, and socio-economic backgrounds.

Students (age 12+) | Working Professionals | Homemakers | Retirees | Coders

For individuals, educational institutions, corporate teams, and CSR initiatives (SDG 4 & 9 aligned)

No coding. No technical background required.
If you can use WhatsApp, you can follow these webinars comfortably.
